

Court Review Asked

The board announced plans to file a writ of review with the State Supreme Court in connection with the Warren Avenue School site.

In a reversal of an earlier decision, Superior Court Judge Malcolm Douglas yesterday ruled the state has power to condemn the property as a part of the World Fair site.

Board members said they had no wish to obstruct World Fair plans, but felt a review of the matter was a debt they owed Seattle taxpayers.